

Front of House Volunteers Application

The Everyman is a non-profit company that produces and presents the best in Irish and international performance for Cork and Irish audiences. Our mission is to be indispensable to all of the communities we serve: audiences, artists (local, national, international), employees and suppliers, while remaining rooted in, and inextricably linked to, Cork.

A unique feature of The Everyman is that its Front of House ushering staff is made up entirely of volunteers.

Volunteers are local people with a love of theatre who give freely of their time to contribute in many ways to the successful running of the Theatre. They are vital members of the Everyman team and the time and commitment that they continually give to the Theatre is very much appreciated.

Front of House Volunteers' duties include ushering for all performances, selling programmes and merchandise, assisting with fire safety procedures, helping customers and most importantly providing a warm welcome to all our audiences and visitors to ensure their visit is a memorable one.

What we need.

- Availability of a minimum 1 night per week, 3 to 4 hours a night
- A positive, outgoing personality
- An avid interest in theatre

What you get.

- Full training including fire safety, customer service, theatre policy and health and safety
- 2 Complimentary tickets to the majority of performances.
- A good look at the world of theatre from the inside and the chance to meet other like-minded theatre enthusiasts.

If you are interested in becoming a volunteer please fill in application form overleaf or if you require more information you can call Robbie Cotter at 021 4501673 or email
